

Oboe Intonation

Usually flat (especially in forte):

(avoid "fork" fingering)

Usually sharp:

These two notes use "half hole" fingerings, which are easily lipped down.

All notes above the staff need special attention. Fortunately, they are fairly easy to lip in tune.

